Leigh Nicholls
Chief Inspector
Department of Planning and Environment

1 Name of Order

This Order is the Registration of Conveyor Belting Design Order 2018.

2 Commencement

This Order commences on 7 December 2018.

3 Interpretation

In this Order:

Australian Standard or AS is a reference to a standard published by or on behalf of Standards Australia.

Chief Inspector is a person appointed under the Work Health and Safety (Mines and Petroleum Sites) Act 2013.

5 Design requirements

All conveyor belting used in underground coal mines must be designed to be fire resistant and antistatic. The designer must specify the published technical standards, or the engineering principles used to identify controls, in the order of the hierarchy of risk controls in Part 3.1 of the Work Health and Safety Regulation 2017, incorporated in the design.

6 Testing requirements

6 Performance standards

- (1) Conveyor belts must comply with the requirements of Grade S conveyor belting as set out in AS 4606-2012.
- (2) Despite the performance requirements of clause 6.1.3 of AS 4606-2012, 'Ignitability and maximum surface temperature of belting subjected to friction (Drum friction test)', conveyor belts for use in applications where they are too inflexible to wrap around the drum, need not comply with those requirements, provided:
 - (a) it can be demonstrated that it is not reasonably practicable to comply, and
 - (b) specify the published technical standards, or the engineering principles used to identify controls, in the order of the hierarchy of risk controls in Part 3.1 of the Work Health and Safety Regulation 2017, to protect from the risk of heating of the conveyor belt due to belt slip and/or friction between the conveyor belt and a metal object.

5 Design requirement

- (1) All explosive-powered tools used in underground coal mines must be designed, in accordance with the following standards, as amended from time to time:
 - (a) AS/NZS 1873.1:2003 Powder-actuated (PA) hand-held fastening tools – Selection, operation and maintenance
 - (b) AS/NZS 1873.2:2003 Powder-actuated (PA) hand-held fastening tools – Design and construction
 - (c) AS/NZS 1873.3:2003 Powder-actuated (PA) hand-held fastening tools – Charges
 - (d) AS/NZS 1873.4:2003 Powder-actuated (PA) hand-held fastening tools – Fasteners
- (2) Without limiting 5 (1) above, all explosive-powered tools including its associated range of explosive charges and fasteners, must be designed such that the tool itself is not an effective ignition source of a methane-enriched atmosphere.
- (3) Where a design does not comply, in full or part, with the guidelines listed in paragraphs 5(1)(a)-(d), the designer must specify the published technical standards or the engineering principles used to identify controls, in the order of the hierarchy of risk controls in Part 3.1 of the Work Health and Safety Regulation 2017, incorporated in the design to achieve at least an equivalent level of safety as the design requirements in 5 (1) and 5 (2).

6 Testing requirements

6.1 General

 - (d) testing is to be performed with a range of expected target materials including industry brick, concrete and steel plate,
 - (e) where applicable, the tool is to be tested with supplied extension trigger assembly fitted and with magazine.
- (2) Testing must be repeated at least five times for each combination to be able to demonstrate the repeatability of the results.
- (3) Testing must be repeated to simulate all reasonably foreseeable operating conditions of the explosive-powered tool.

6.3 Test facility

All testing must be carried out by:

- (a) a laboratory in Australia that is accredited by the National Association of Testing Authorities Australia (NATA) for performing the specific tests described in the standards referred to in this Order, or
- (b) where a NATA-accredited laboratory is not available, a suitably qualified and experienced independent facility having regard to test equipment, equipment calibration, quality processes, work methods, past test experience and independent technical verification should be used.

7 Performance standards

When the explosive-powered tool is fired in the test chamber, the surrounding ethylene environment must not ignite.

LAND TAX MANAGEMENT ACT 1956

Land Tax (including Surcharge Land Tax) Returns for 2019 Tax Year

1. This Order is made under section 12(1) of the Land Tax Management Act 1956 (the Act) and section 37 of the Taxation Administration Act 1996 (TAA). The purpose of this Order is to inform persons who own land in New South Wales if and when they are required to lodge an initial return or a variation return for the 2019 land tax year, and any subsequent tax year.
2. A "person" includes a company, a trustee, a beneficiary of a trust and a natural person.
3. Under section 12(2) of the Act, the Chief Commissioner of State Revenue (the Chief Commissioner) may require any person to lodge a return or further return, in circumstances other than those described in this Notice.

4. A requirement to lodge a return specified in this notice does not affect a requirement to lodge a return by an earlier date specified by the Chief Commissioner under section 12(2) of the Act or an earlier date specified in any previous Order made under section 12(1).

Persons Who Must Lodge an Initial Return

5. The requirement to lodge an initial land tax return applies to “persons” who are “owners” of land in New South Wales at midnight on 31 December of 2018 or any subsequent land tax year. The reference to an “owner” includes a reference to a person who is an owner of land or is deemed to be an owner for land tax purposes by the Act.
6. Persons who own land in New South Wales at midnight on 31 December of 2018 and any subsequent land tax year must lodge an initial return unless they were assessed and received a land tax notice of assessment for the previous land tax year.
7. Persons who are foreign persons for the purposes of surcharge land tax and who own residential land in New South Wales at midnight on 31 December 2018 and any subsequent land tax year must lodge an initial return unless they were assessed and received a land tax notice of assessment for surcharge land tax for the previous land tax year.
8. Persons who received a land tax notice of assessment for any land tax year showing NIL land tax payable, and subsequently acquire an additional ownership interest in land, must lodge an initial return.
9. Persons who are liable to be assessed for land tax for any tax year and have not previously lodged a return for that tax year, or have lodged a return but have not received a land tax notice of assessment by 31 December of that tax year, must lodge an initial return for the following tax year.
10. Persons who own land that was exempt from land tax in any tax year but the land ceases to be exempt for a subsequent land tax year, must lodge an initial return.
11. Where land is subject to a trust, and the trustee has not previously lodged a land tax return, the trustee must lodge an initial return on behalf of the trust. (Note that if the trustee fails to lodge a return, or fails to provide the information specified on the form about the beneficiaries of the trust, the trust may be assessed as a special trust).
12. Examples of when an owner must lodge an initial return for a particular tax year include:
 - (a) A residence that is not the owner’s exempt principal place of residence was purchased prior to the taxing date for the relevant tax year;
 - (b) The owner of land is liable for land tax for the previous tax year but did not receive an assessment by 31 December of that year;
 - (c) a foreign person has not previously advised their residency status;
 - (d) an assessment notice showing zero tax was received for a particular land tax year and new land or an additional ownership interest in land has subsequently been acquired;
 - (e) land that was previously the owner’s exempt principal place of residence is subsequently left vacant or rented to tenants;
 - (f) land is subject to a trust and the trustee has not previously lodged a land tax return on behalf of the trust.
13. A Land Tax Registration Form is an initial return for the purposes of section 12.

Due Date for Lodgement of Initial Returns

14. Any person who is required by this Order to lodge an initial return must do so by 31 March during the relevant tax year.
15. Penalty tax and interest may be imposed under the Act and the TAA for failing to lodge an initial return by the due date. Late lodgement interest applies from 1 April of the relevant tax year until the date of lodgement of the return.

Persons Who Must Lodge a Variation Return

16. A variation return is required to be lodged by a person who receives an incorrect notice of assessment of land tax. Errors that require a variation return to be lodged include errors in the description of the land and errors in the details about the owners of the land.

17. Examples of errors on a notice of assessment that require lodgement of a variation return include:
- (a) the assessment notice is missing land or contains land that is not owned by the person at the taxing date;
